AAH Groups:

Right at 1,000 groups.

AAH Groups:

All volunteers - no sponsors.

Challenges:

Many of the volunteer groups have members whose age will soon cause the groups to look for other volunteer opportunities other than roadside activities.

Challenges:

It is a challenge to make sure we let the volunteers know how valuable their efforts are to all of the motoring public and the tremendous service they are providing to the Idaho Transportation Department.

In this era of budget deficits and staffing changes and/or shortages, know that what you do is important. Stand back and look at the big picture and visualize what your immediate environment might look like without your management of Adopt-A-Highway and the commitment and labor of your caring volunteers.
